

Team QEH Awards 2022 Nominees

The Growing Our Own Award

This award recognises an individual in the early stages of their career. The individual will have made a notable achievement in their learning and development. Their learning journey will have transformed their own lives and has positively impacted the lives of others. The winner will be recognised for consistently seeking to improve their own skills and knowledge and to promote personal development in a manner that results in continuous improvement in the team's performance.
