Rajinder	Bilku	Consultants - Cardiology	I undertake regular clinical private practice clinics off-site at an external venue as specified with allocated time in my signed off job plan. In addition, I have undertaken private echocardiograms at QEH (which was agreed with senior NHS managers dating back to approval granted in 2014/15). These private echocardiograms have been undertaken flexibly and unpredictably dependent on resource availability when not being used for NHS patients with prior approval of service managers beforehand. As agreed verbally with two previous medical directors, any time shifting or use of NHS time to conduct these tests have been paid back prospectively (through doing unpaid prospective cover on call (since end of 2020) as well as undertaking unpaid outpatient clinics including unpaid supervision and support of the cardiology registrar rapid access chest pain clinics (since 2016). This private test activity has been declared as a flexible activity (separate and outside of the regular once weekly Thursday private practice clinic activity and dedicated job plan lunchtime as well) and is also labelled as a flexible component of private patient activity within the flexible section of the signed off job plan from January 2024.	01/04/2020	01/02/2025	11/02/2024

Rudolf	Duehmke	Consultants - Cardiology	I have been teaching heart failure guidelines in my own time (i.e. not on NHS time) for both Novartis and Astra Zeneca. I always taught heart failure guidelines only (National Institute of Health and Care Excellence, European Society of Cardiology, CARdio-REnal-METabolic UK partnership). I have started doing this in 2018 and continued doing this until now. I have on no occasion been paid to prescribe their drugs. I have no financial interest in these companies but have been paid as an honorarium for talks delivered to GPs and specialist nurses. I believe that teaching heart failure guidelines to GPs and heart failure nurses is of benefit to our patient population as the guidelines are ever evolving. I have on multiple occasions taught the exact same tutorials for free (also in my own time). The SHORT trial is an investigator-initiated trial that is sponsored by the QEH King's Lynn but funded by Novartis. The trial was independently designed by myself with no interference from Novartis. It has been reviewed by the Trust's R&amp;D Department and approved by the Regional Ethics Committee.	20/11/2018	08/07/2041	29/05/2022
