Stephen	Byard	Consultants - Ophthalmology	I perform cataract and oculoplastics operations for an NHS private provider, Anglian Community Eye Service. This activity does not conflict with any clinical sessions at QEH. My work at QEH takes priority. This work is done in non working time from January 2022 in my new job plan. My work is undertaken on Wednesday Thursday and some Fridays. I perform 1 session per month on a Saturday at Newmedica Ipswich. This is a sole NHS private provider service which I deliver and does not conflict with my time at QEH. Currently I do not perform any pure paid private work.	01-Jan-22	11-Sep-22

Rudolf	Duehmke	Consultants - Cardiology	I have been teaching heart failure guidelines in my own time (i.e. not on NHS time) for both Novartis and Astra Zeneca. I always taught heart failure guidelines only (National Institute of Health and Care Excellence, European Society of Cardiology, CARDIO-REnal-METabolic UK partnership). I have started doing this in 2018 and continued doing this until now. I have on no occasion been paid to prescribe their drugs. I have no financial interest in these companies but have been paid as an honorarium for talks delivered to GPs and specialist nurses. I believe that teaching heart failure guidelines to GPs and heart failure nurses is of benefit to our patient population as the guidelines are ever evolving. I have on multiple occasions taught the exact same tutorials for free (also in my own time). The SHORT trial is an investigator-initiated trial that is sponsored by the QEH King's Lynn but funded by Novartis. The trial was independently designed by myself with no interference from Novartis. It has been reviewed by the Trust's R&D Department and approved by the Regional Ethics Committee.	29-May-22	29-May-22
